This book was published through the cooperation of the local community, Room to Read and Naturally Plus. Naturally Plus is honored to have the opportunity to support this book and hope that the children of Sri Lanka will read and enjoy the book, and in turn learn and succeed in their education. We are excited to be able to contribute to their education and love of reading. We hope that this book helps them to dream and to smile.

Room to Read seeks to transform the lives of millions of children in developing countries by focusing on literacy and gender equality in education. Working in collaboration with local communities, partner organizations and governments, we develop literacy skills and a habit of reading among primary school children and support girls to complete secondary school with the relevant life skills to succeed in school and beyond.

A Dress for Porcupine

There is a competition to select the best dress in the forest. Kooru Penchi the porcupine wants to win the competition and asks her friend Gethum Pencha the spider to make a beautiful dress for her. Gethum Pencha tries to make several dresses, but the dresses always rip because of Kooru Penchi's sharp spikes! Do you think Gethum Pencha will be able to make a dress for Kooru Penchi to wear and win the competition?
