Room to Read seeks to transform the lives of millions of children in developing countries by focusing on literacy and gender equality in education. Working in collaboration with local communities, partner organizations and governments, we develop literacy skills and a habit of reading among primary school children, and support girls to complete secondary school with the relevant life skills to succeed in school and beyond.

Rama Goes to Town tells the story of a young girl named Rama who is visiting the city for the first time with her father. She has never seen many types of motorized vehicles, and she is excited to ride on the different forms of transportation and motorized vehicles.

Author Shilpi Pradhan

Shilpi Pradhan graduated from Kathmandu University. Pradhan has taught pre-school children and gathered some experience living with them. The need for interesting and informative books for Nepalese children inspired her to write the books. She is associated with Room to Read.

Illustrator Jupiter Pradhan

Jupiter Pradhan is a popular Nepalese artist. He has shown an interest in illustrating children's books since 1998 and has illustrated more than a dozen children's books, which have been very popular among the Nepalese children.
