

Socks

Anu loves socks and finds many uses for them. She can change the color of her legs, create colorful toys, and even turn socks into animal shapes! Anu's mother asks if she can use some of Anu's old socks to make a mop. Do you think Anu will be able to part with her cherished socks?

Room to Read seeks to transform the lives of millions of children in developing countries by focusing on literacy and gender equality in education. Working in collaboration with local communities, partner organizations and governments, we develop literacy skills and a habit of reading among primary school children, and support girls to complete secondary school with the relevant life skills to succeed in school and beyond.

Story: Pramod Pathak

Pramod is a poet who writes daily and conducts creative writing and pedagogy workshops for children and teachers. In his free time, Pramod likes to observe the beauty he finds in nature and determine how to incorporate what he sees into his poetry.

Illustration: Kanika Nair

Kanika Nair has always had a passion for illustration. After receiving a bachelor's degree in communication design from Pearl Academy of Fashion, she began working as a freelance illustrator, writer, and designer of children's books. Nair has worked on children's book projects with Karadi Tales, Bharat Gyan Vigyan Samiti (BGVS) and Pratham Books. She loves to incorporate various insights about children that she's collected over the years into her illustrations.
