

Author: Prom Kunthearo

Illustrator: Keo Phunphalla

Tin Trong, the Little Bus

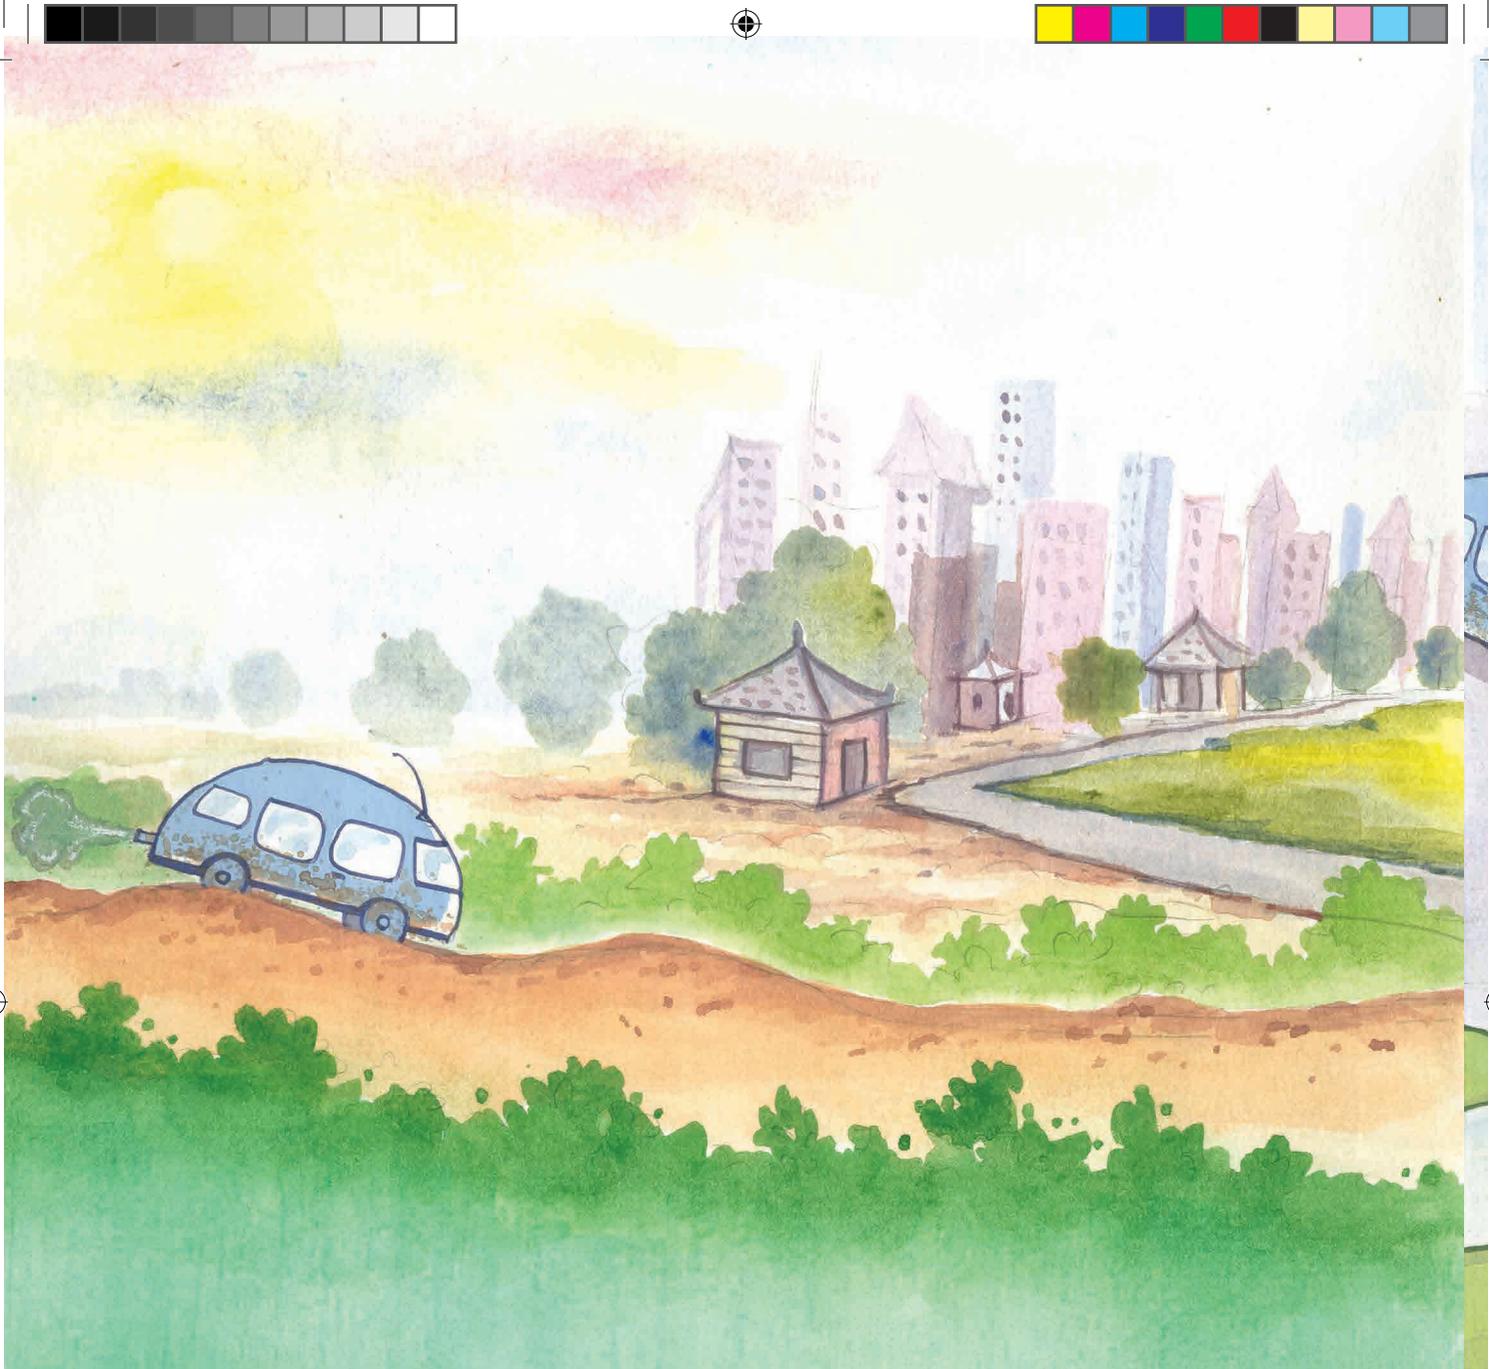

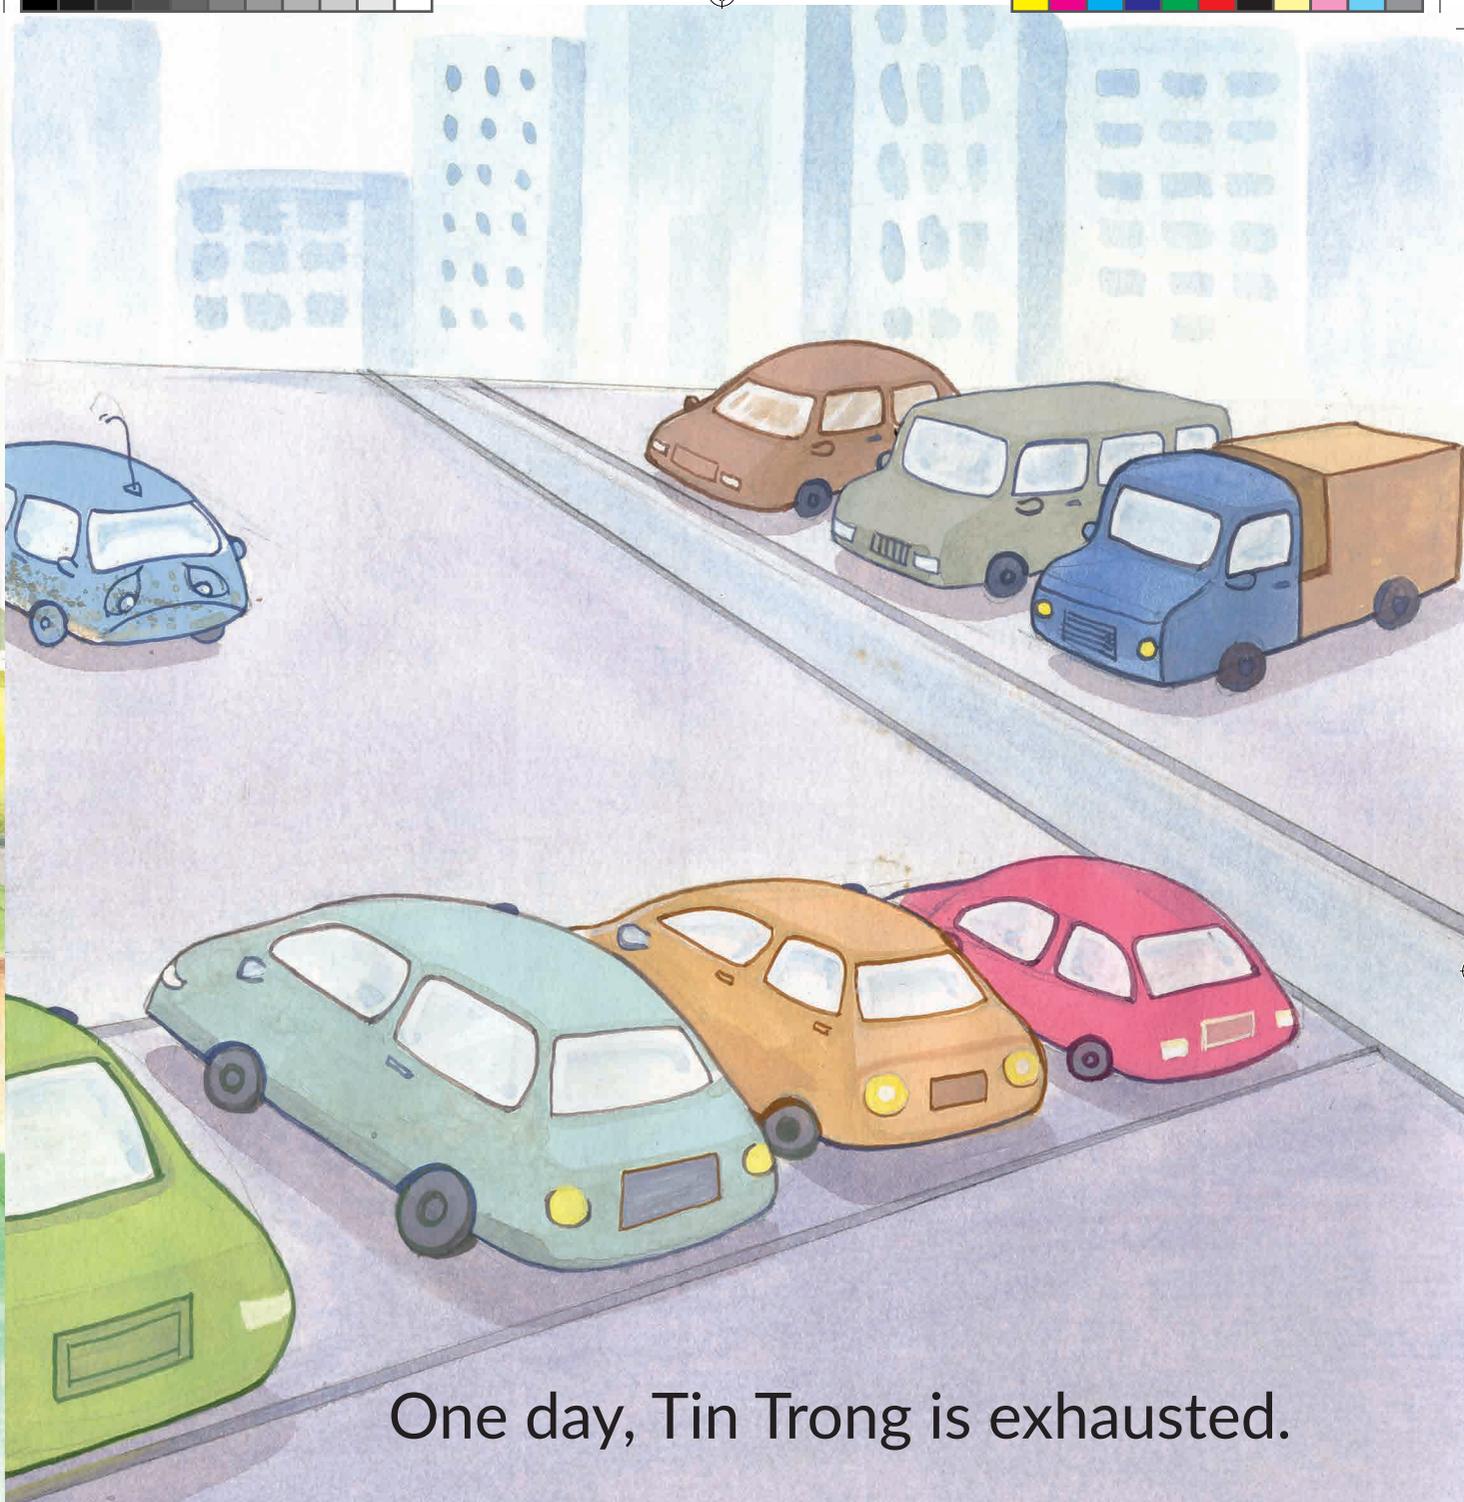

There is a little bus named Tin Trong.
He drives a long way every day!

Tin Trong drives uphill and downhill. He drives in sun, rain, dirt, and mud.

One day, Tin Trong is exhausted.
He reaches his parking space late.

Tin Trong coughs. He is too sick to drive tomorrow.

The next day, Tin Trong calls in sick. He knows what to do to feel better. He needs a rest and a good tune-up!

Bang! Bang! Bang! Bang!

Bang! Bang! Bang! Bang!

Tin Trong feels better after his tune-up.

Actually, he feels great!

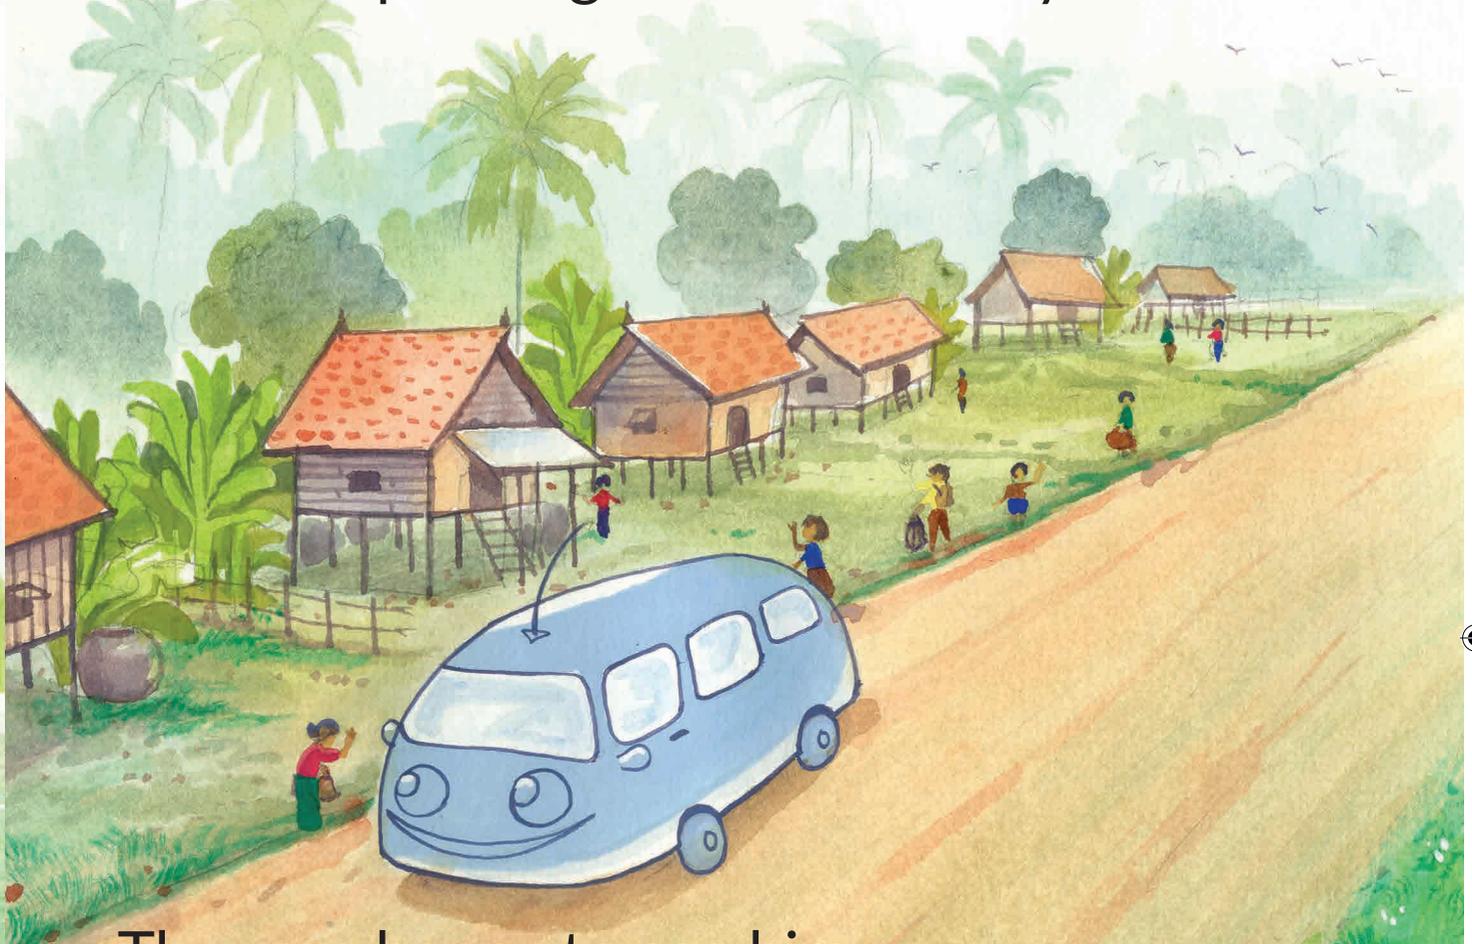

Tin Trong asks for one more thing. He asks for a bath. After his bath, he takes a nap. He has to wake up early tomorrow!

The next day, Tin Trong is strong again.
He drives straight ahead. He drives back and forth, left and right.

Tin Tin . . . Tet Tet . . . Tin Tin . . . Tin Trong takes his passengers home one by one.

They are happy to see him.

"We missed you yesterday," they say.

"But everyone needs a rest sometimes!"

Questions

1. What is Tin Trong?
2. Why does Tin Trong take the day off?
3. What does it sound like when Tin Trong gets a tune-up?
4. What does it sound like when Tin Trong drives?
5. Why do you think Tin Trong got sick?

