

Xay Goes Fishing

Xay is going fishing.

His friends want to go with him,
but his boat is too small!

“May I go with you?” asked Buffalo,
as he jumped onto the boat.

Xay's boat sank. "Oh no, you can't come with me!" Xay said.

“May I go with you?” asked Horse,
as he climbed aboard the boat.

Once again, Xay's boat sank.
"Oh no, you can't come with me either!" Xay said.

“May I go with you?” asked Goat,
as she stepped onto the boat.

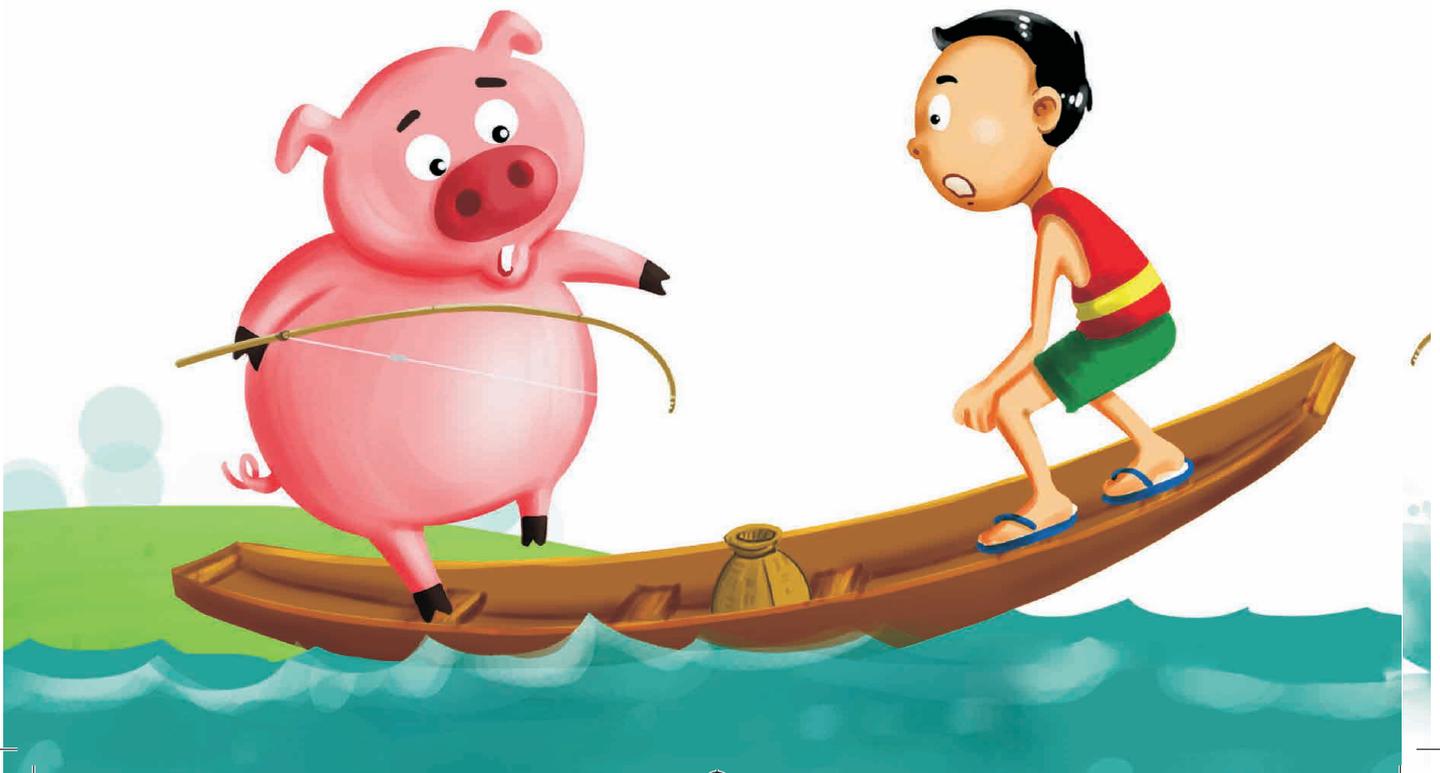

Xay's boat sank. "Oh no, you can't come with me either!" Xay said.

“May I go with you?” asked Pig, as she walked right onto the boat.

Xay's boat sank. "Oh no, you can't come with me either!" Xay said.

“May I go with you?” asked Dog, as she stepped onto the boat.

Xay's boat sank.

“Oh no, you can't come with me either!”

“May I go with you?” asked Cat, as he nimbly leapt onto the boat.

Xay's boat didn't sink!

“Yes! You can come with me.” Xay said.

Xay and Cat went out to fish in the middle of the river.

They fished happily and caught a lot of fish.

After a while, Xay and Cat began to miss the the friends they had left behind on the shore.

They rowed back to their friends on the shore.

They all fished happily
by the river bank.
