Room to Read seeks to transform the lives of millions of children in developing countries by focusing on literacy and gender equality in education. Working in collaboration with local communities, partner organizations and governments, we develop literacy skills and a habit of reading among primary school children, and support girls to complete secondary school with the relevant life skills to succeed in school and beyond.

The comma, the period, the exclamation point, and the question mark all live together in a Vietnamese textbook. One day, they decide to travel together to a neighboring book. Along the way, they argue about where each of them belongs on the page. Where do you think each punctuation mark belongs?

With numerous works widely acclaimed by young readers, Lưu Thị Lương is one of the leading writers for children in Vietnam. Her ability to look at things through the lens of a child enables her to turn even the most basic everyday events into lovely stories.

Vũ Thị Thùy Dung graduated with a degree in Painting from the HCMC University of Fine Arts and currently works as a freelance artist and illustrator. In 2011, Ms. Dung was selected to illustrate Seed Dreams, which has become a favorite of children among all titles published by Room to Read Vietnam that year.
