

All caregivers can help children with reading!

Even if you can't read yourself, talk to children about the pictures and ask them questions about the story.